THE CGSMUN EXECUTIVE BOARD 21

ABOUT THE CGSMUN CONFERENCE

The Costeas-Geitonas School Model United Nations (CGSMUN) has successfully reached its 21st session, and the CGSMUN Executive Board is more than delighted to invite you to our upcoming conference, which will take place on December 11th-13th, 2026 at the CGS premises in Athens, Greece.

CGSMUN is a great tradition of our school and an integral part of its life! Having started back in 2006, as a small-scale conference with few participants, CGSMUN has continuously developed and expanded ever since. The conference has grown in size, popularity and efficacy, and attracted schools and participants from all over Greece, as well as abroad.

A highlight in its history was in 2012, when CGSMUN joined The Hague International Model United Nations Foundation (THIMUN) family, having fulfilled all THIMUN criteria and standards for a successful, international conference. This achievement boosted the reputation of CGSMUN even more and since 2013, CGSMUN has evolved even further, unfolding its full potential. At present, it is no exaggeration to consider CGSMUN one of the best-organized and most successful MUN conferences in Greece.

The number of participants exceeds 550 people giving us the opportunity to host a multicultural and diverse conference, with schools and independent participants from more than 10 European and Middle-Eastern countries.

Our conference strives to become better each year and is honored to have esteemed Ambassadors from European, African or Asian countries, UN officials, and a wide range of experts, including university professors and important NGOs, as guests or key-note speakers. We place considerable emphasis on engaging the students actively and to explicitly connect our topics with the real world.

An asset of CGSMUN, which distinguishes it from other conferences and ensures the above-mentioned success, is its Executive Board, which is composed of very experienced MUN Directors, an Organizing Committee formed by highly capable university students who were past MUNers, as well as a 6 -member Secretariat consisting of the best young MUNers across Europe and the Middle East. CGS's invaluable school staff and expertise are added to this team in order to produce the best of outcomes.

A final point to mention is the pro-social action and environmentally-friendly character of CGS and, by extension, of CGSMUN. Every year, the conference has held at least one fundraising campaign for important humanistic NGOs, such as Amnesty International or Doctors without Borders, and manages to raise considerable funds that greatly contribute to the activities of these organizations.

In addition, as we highly value environmental sustainability, during the previous CGSMUN conferences we did our best to minimize the number of printed materials, as well as provide handbooks and pens that were made only from recycled paper. This is one of the good practices we seek to adhere to and take one step further next year.

All in all, we are confident that our conference will meet your standards for an international MUN conference, and will live up to any expectations. We will be more than pleased once again to welcome schools that have traditionally attended our conference, as well as new participating schools.

We are looking forward to your statement of interest and, should you have any queries, please do not hesitate to contact us at cgsmun@cgs.edu.gr.

About the 21st CGS MUN

This year's conference theme, "Breaking the Cycle: Sociopolitical Re-Invention," challenges delegates to confront the repeating patterns that prevent societies from progressing towards peace and stability. Humanity often struggles with recurring issues such as political instability, social inequality, corruption, conflict, and distrust in institutions. History seems not only to be repeating itself, but to reemerge in possibly more destructive and catastrophic events for humankind, despite the paradoxical material development of societies. While many attempts are being made to break the cycle, to stop the spiral, such as the creation of the United Nations and various organisations that strive for the cooperation of actors with power for the common good, the force of the pattern seems to be stronger.

The world is constantly balancing between poles- the great powers are utilizing whichever means necessary to become the Global Policeman. From the microcosm of a local authority to the global scale of international relations, people and institutions are undisturbingly pursuing absolute power to the detriment of the rest. Human rights violations, war, economic disparities, corruption, environmental decline, and most issues the world is facing at the moment can be attributed to the vicious circle of the ultimate seek of power. Rooted in longstanding structures, power dynamics, and unresolved historical grievances, these cycles still persist. Breaking them requires more than temporary fixes - it calls for deep and systemic change. From a small-scale revolt to international and global movements for change, the effect of cooperation and solidarity for the better good must develop into robust measures that do not permit noncompliance with international law, grave human rights menaces, and violations to democratic and justiciary structures.

And while the cycle, the repetition of patterns, is usually associated with stability and familiarity, in the context of political and social tendencies it brings about insecurity and fear.

As humanity becomes more powerful and more destructive, the repetition of events such as the rise of the far-right, neo-colonialism and imperialism, genocide, war, discrimination and corruption paralyze the international community more than they have before. International organizations stand with their hands tied in the name of sovereignty- but if they cannot act who can? Who can break the cycle and who can stop the great powers from playing international relations like a game of chess?

The delegates of the 21st CGSMUN will be confronted with issues centered around these ideas. They will innovate and discuss through the modernity and connection to contemporary technology but the maturity and diplomacy framed by the notion of the United Nations.

In a world where human rights violations are not being punished, war is the first and seemingly “the best solution” for the powerful ones, economic gain is being prioritised over solidarity, and the famous spheres of political influence rise again, breaking the cycle is not just a theme, it is a dire need.

CGSMUN DELEGATIONS

Click on the following for the full CGSMUN COUNTRY LIST

SEATS AND DELEGATION SIZE

Each country represented at the Conference is called a "Delegation". The Standard Delegation has 6 seats - namely ONE in each of the 6 General Assembly Committees [GA 1 (Disarmament and International Security committee), GA 2 (Economic and Financial committee), GA 3 (Social, Humanitarian and Cultural committee), GA 4 (Special Political and Decolonization committee) Committee, GA5 Administrative and Budgetary Committee, GA 6 (Legal) Committee].

Each delegation also has positions in the Specialized Agencies (EC, SC, HRC, ECOSOC, SPECON, UN Women, CCPCJ, IAEA, UNESCO, NATO).

Please consult the Country list regarding the positions of each delegation.

It should be noted that there is only a limited number of delegations that have positions in the Security Council; therefore, these delegations are usually assigned to the first schools submitting Form I and to schools with a long tradition both in attending the CGSMUN and/or in the field of Model United Nations. Schools allocated with a P5 country (USA, UK, Russian Federation, France or China) may assign 2 delegates in the SC.

Schools assigned a delegation with seats in the SC and/or ECOSOC and/or the HRC must cover these positions.

Furthermore, the Youth Assembly, where newcomers have the opportunity to become acquainted with the MUN, discuss issues of lower difficulty by representing themselves and not a country.

AMBASSADORS AND SPEECHES

Each delegation has a special student appointed as the Head of the Delegation, the so-called Ambassador. The Ambassadors of some delegations have to deliver a one-minute-long speech in the opening session of the General Assembly Plenary Session referring to the position of each delegation towards the Agenda and the issues their country is most affected by. Only one student participating in a General Assembly committee will be chosen by the school's MUN Advisor to deliver this speech.

APPLICATIONS FOR KEY-POSITIONS

SECRETARIAT APPLICATION

The Secretariat is the highest student body of a CGSMUN Conference. The Secretary General (SG) is the top student holding the most responsible position among all other students, being therefore the head of the conference. Apart from the Secretary General, there are also two Deputy Secretary Generals (DSGs) who replace the SG in case of an emergency and cooperate with him/her during the organization of the conference. Another member of the Secretariat is the President of the General Assembly (PGA), who is a person with strong previous MUN and chairing experience and is responsible for organizing the GA committees, chairing the two GA Plenary Sessions and the Opening and Closing Ceremonies. The President of the General Assembly replace the two Deputy Presidents of the General Assembly (DPGA) in case of an emergency, while also aiding in the organization of the GA Plenary. Apart from the Secretary General, who must be a CGS Student, the remaining positions can be covered by CGS students as well as other experienced MUNers from Greek and International Schools. In order to provide all students with the opportunity to be part of the organization of the conference, 1-3 Secretariat positions may be given to non-CGS applicants. Therefore, we urge you recommend your experienced students to apply for such positions.

The application process consists of three stages. First, applicants must fill in the online registration form which can be found on our website www.cgsmun.gr. Completing the form, they will have to send a Motivation Letter (extra information on what a letter should include is provided on the first page of the application form), a complete Agenda (following the format of previous CGSMUN Agendas) and a Study Guide they have written in the past for a CGSMUN or another Conference. Apart from these documents, the MUN Director/Advisor of the applicant must provide us with a Letter of Recommendation (in case of multiple applicants from the same school, the Advisor must rank them).

STUDENT OFFICER APPLICATION

Each committee has a Chair, Head or President who is the Student Officer (StOff) in charge of the forum. A CGSMUN Conference consists of 65 Student Officers. There are 4 StOff in each GA committee and EC Commission, 3 in the Security Council, NATO, and CCPCJ committee, 4 in the Youth Assembly, and 4 StOff in the Special Committees. The Student Officers are responsible for coordinating the debate in every committee as well as creating study guides or research reports for the delegates of their committees. They have to be experienced MUNers with in-depth knowledge of the MUN procedure as well as the items on the Agenda.

In order for one to apply for such a position, an applicant must fill in the online registration form, which can be found on our website www.cgsmun.gr. Afterwards he/she must submit a Motivation Letter to the Secretariat (secr_mun@cgs.edu.gr), and a previous Study Guide (in the cases where they have already written one), while his/her MUN Director/Advisor must send a Letter of Recommendation.

The applications for StOff positions will be held in April-May 2026 (specific dates will be announced on the cgsmun.gr site and social media).

Interviews will also be held for all applicants online. This is also to be announced.

There will also be workshops and Teams sessions for the successful applicants, while on the day prior to the conference a mandatory StOff workshop will be held on the CGS premises.

SCHOOL REGISTRATION

Every year over 30 schools from Greece and abroad participate in the CGSMUN thereby providing the conference with an international character and creating an atmosphere where students from all around the world get to know each other, exchange ideas on the problems of today's world and create strong friendships.

School registration takes place in three simple steps. First, schools interested fill in the online registration Form of Participation entitled FORM I. In this form, the MUN Director/Advisor provides us with basic information on the school such as the contact person as well as the number of students he/she wishes to bring to the conference. Furthermore, they send us their preferences concerning country assignments. Submitting the registration form does not guarantee participation in the conference. The school is informed if its application is accepted since there are many schools interested. We will try to fulfil all of your wishes as long as we do not exceed our capacity.

FORM I opens in the first week of June

Immediately after the end of the first registration, the executive board will assign countries to the different schools and open the third and last phase of the registration. The country assignments will be sent to the schools during the first week of October when FORM II (Delegates' Assignment) will open.

The form will be accessible online and the deadline for the submission of FORM II is mid November.

In this form, the MUN Directors/Advisors of the participating schools will assign their delegates to the different committees, choose the Ambassador for each delegation and provide us with the names of the teachers (Advisors) accompanying the students to the conference.

Late submission of FORM II as well as changes to it after the deadline will be charged 10 Euros.

More information on school registration can be found on the Forms. If you still have any queries, do not hesitate to contact the MUN Directors: cgsmun@cgs.edu.gr

TRANSPORTATION

As mentioned above, there will be shuttle buses for all participants to and from Pallini metro and suburban railway station.

Upon request and at an extra cost, we can provide international schools or schools not based in Athens as well as individuals not living in Athens with transfer from the airport to their hotel or to the school, from and to the school during conference days as well as from their hotel or the school to the airport. The transportation by our shuttle buses includes transportation only to/from the Syntagma Square where our recommended hotels are located.

ACCOMMODATION

In order for you to be closer to the city center and be able to visit the various sights of Athens as well as have dinner at some renowned Greek restaurants, we can recommend and make arrangements for bookings. Please contact the CGS organizing team for more information.

ATHENS

Athens is one of the most beautiful cities in Europe. Therefore, we would like to assist you in combining participation at the conference with educational as well as enjoyable activities our city offers you. Apart from eating in traditional Greek restaurants and tavernas (upon request we could recommend some), you should not miss out on the chance to visit the following sights! First, a visit to the Acropolis is a must while you can also visit the famous Acropolis museum to discover the history of ancient Athens and enjoy the restaurant and/or the cafeteria of the museum with a wonderful panoramic view of Athens and of the Acropolis. Furthermore, do not miss the chance to visit some of our famous museums e.g. the National Archaeological Museum of Athens, the Benaki Museum, the National Gallery, etc. Last but not least, you should take some time for a walk in Monastiraki, Plaka and on Mount Lycabettus. For any further assistance on how to spend your free time in the most useful and enjoyable of ways, please do visit the following website: http://www.greece-athens.com/.

We hope you will have a great stay in Athens!

PROCEDURE AND CONDUCT

CONFERENCE PROCEDURE IN THE CGSMUN

As a THIMUN Affiliated Conference, the CGSMUN Conference follows the rules of procedure of THIMUN. On arrival on the first day, only the Advisors and the Ambassadors are allowed to stay in the registration room; the rest of the students must wait in the school's cafeteria. After registration, delegates will head directly to their committee rooms, where the procedure will be explained to them in detail by their Chairs. They will then head to the Opening Ceremony which takes place in the GA Hall or to one of the live-streaming rooms. During the first day, delegates will have the time to lobby and prepare draft resolutions for the debate. There will be separate lobbying time for each topic. Lobbying is the procedure where delegates create alliances, present their resolutions to other delegates and conclude on one common resolution per alliance. On the second day, the debate procedure will start and it will be continued till the end of the conference. On the last day, a closing ceremony will also take place.

There will also be two GA and EC plenary sessions; one on the first and one on the last day of the conference. During the first Plenary Sessions (Friday), the Ambassadors (for the GA) and one of the delegates (for the EC) deliver their one-minute-long opening speeches. During the final Plenary Sessions (Sunday), resolutions by each Committee of the GA and per Sub-Commission of the EC are presented and debated.

Please make sure that all delegates have studied their topics and written their resolutions as well as a policy statement, which is a short text (approx. 100 words per topic) explaining the position of the delegation on the committees' Agenda topics. Furthermore, the delegate of the EC and the Ambassadors who will be assigned to give speeches in the plenary sessions must have prepared appropriate ones.

CONDUCT

Dress Code

The dress code follows MUN regulations and traditions and the organizing committee of the conference has the right to ban delegates that do not meet the dress code criteria

LADIES:

Must wear long trousers, knee-length skirts or dresses and flat or average-height shoes.

GENTLEMEN:

Must wear a shirt, a suit, a tie and leather shoes.

Delegates should not wear clothes, jewelry or accessories which are inappropriate or which draw unnecessary attention.

Inappropriate dress includes, but is not limited to:

National costume or military attire

Flags of any kind

Denim clothes and sport shoes (trainers, etc.)

Brightly colored and/or spiky hair

Facial piercings (extended to earrings) and/or body art (piercings)

Please inform us about any health issues or allergies of your students so that we can be properly equipped and prepared during the conference.

Due to the difficulty and complexity of some of our issues and in order for your delegates to be adequately prepared for the debate, please make sure that, apart from the normal research, your students should read the Study Guides prepared by their Student Officers (Chairs) as well as the manuals for Delegates, Student Officers, SC Delegates, NATO Panellists and Members of the Youth Assembly in order for them to understand the procedure of the conference.

For the easier and faster flow of the resolution process, please encourage your delegates to bring their own laptops and USBs with their prepared resolutions to the conference, especially on Friday.

Alcohol and drugs (including cigarettes or any tobacco products) are strictly prohibited on the CGS premises!

Participants staying at our recommended hotels must behave accordingly and respect the rules of the hotels. In case of inappropriate behavior, the hotels have been instructed to inform the CGSMUN Executive Board immediately.

MUN Advisors must be present at the conference at all times. They must check on their students and make sure they behave accordingly. In case an MUN Advisor spots a violation of the conference rules and procedures, he/she is kindly requested to inform directly one of the MUN Directors or a member of the Organizing Committee.

Any student violating the rules of conduct of the conference with inappropriate clothing or behavior can be expelled from the conference by any member of the Executive Board.
